Ca tilian Blood Fired Over the Caroline Islands Encroachment.

orders for German goods.

Parts. August 28.—It is stated that Emperer William, of Germany, through a feeling of sympathy with King Alfonso, has made a personal interference in order to obtain a prompt settlement of the Carolines affair favorable to Spain. Stanish merchants and other consumers of German products threaten to boycott all German goods. Firms in Wursburg and Etherfeld have received notices from commercial houses in Spain severing business connectations with them.

Two Officers Murdered by Burglars.

CHICAGO, August 28.—A mysterious double murder was committed about 12 o'clock last night at Geneva. Kane County, Ills., the victims being two of the three officers who constitute the police force of the town. The deed was committed right in the center of that quiet place, near the in the center of that quiet place, near the Court-house, and some dozen shots were heard by the residents in the neighborhood, given in quick succession, at about midnight, but no one left bed to find out the cause of the turnoil, and it was reserved for a party of merry-makers returning from a picnic, at about I o'clock, to find the bodies of the murdered men and raise the alarm. Officer MeNatt was found dead with a bailet hole in the region of the heart, his revolver, with five of its chambers emptied, lying near him. McNatt lay at the southwest corner of the Court-house, and several reds away, on the sidewalk, bers emptied, lying near him. McNattlay at the southwest corner of the Court-house, and several reds a way, on the sidewalk, was found Officer Grant, also, with a bullet hole in the breast, but on the right side, still breathing slightly, but unconscious, and the last life sparks fast dying out. He was taken home, a few blocks distant, and died on the way. There is as yet no clew to the perpetrators of the trime, but it is surmised that both officers died in the discharge of their duty. There have been several attempted burglaries in the town of late, the lest one occurring but a night or two before. It is supposed that last night the officers discovered the burglars sither at work or leaving the scene of their unlawful activity, and that in the attempt to arrest them, the officers being separated, the fatal shots were fired by the thieves. Grant's piscal was found near his side, four chambers being supply. Both murdered officers have excellent reputations. Both the deceased leave large families. The possibility that their death was due to a quarrel between themselves is precluded by the fact that they were good friends; that they were seen late in the evening in amicable intercourse, and that their bodies were found cuite a distance apart from each other.

A Smart Washing Machine Agent.

OLNEY, ILL., August 28. — About two weeks ago a man came to Olney, giving his name as J. M. Meyer, claiming washing machine agent. Last Monday he kired a horse and buggy, taking the machine with him fourteen miles to the northwest of here. He sold the machine on trial to O. W. Gray for three dollars, taking his note for the same. The note was afterwards changed so as to read $200, and was offered by Meyer to A. Morris for a road scraper, he, Morris, to pay him a cash difference. On inquiry Morris ascertained that Gray was considered perfectly good, and made the trade. He then effected a trade with F. Laudenberger, a prominent groceryman, for a span of fine horses, giving him the note for the horses. Mr. dray made his appearance in town today, and in answer to an impasy said he had given his note for only three dollars. Hustling is a faint description of Laudenberger's movements for a short time. He is making every effort to recover his team, which is in Lincoln, Him all present. Sheriff Spring offers a reward of $25 for Meyer's arrest. They finally reached a settlement called Acalier, and remained there until September 9, when the wholer Eira arrived off the place, and they were all taken on board and kindly eared for, but owing to the scarcity of food on the Eira both crews had to be put on short allowance. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 28.—Chief of Detectives Kelly received an anonymous note this morning in reference to the explomole this morning in reference to the explo-sion on the steamer Felton, as follows: "The Felton explosion was dynamite. It will be im-possible for you to discover them, but to remove suspicion of evil intent from others this statement is made. Your investiga-tion should be to that end." The note is evidently written in a disguised hand.

Washington, August 28.—Third Assistant Postmaster General Hazen to-day received a belegram from Castleton, N. All of them, however, were not available for use, as some difficulty was experienced in drying them. The printing and quality of the cards, while showing a slight improvement, is not as yet satisfactory to the department.

The Most Remarkable Recovery on Record -What Tobacco Will Do.

OH, CITY, PA., August 27 .- Henry Sutton is seemingly about to make one of the most remarkable recoveries on record. A little more than two weeks ago, while engaged n agitating an oil-well owned by Collins & Thompson, at Stone Hill, near Warren, he ttached an iron rod, known as the polishrod, to the sand-pump line, and lowered it to the bottom of the well. A sudden rush of gas threw the rod from the well and of gas threw the rod from the well and about thirty feet into the air, and in falling if struck Sutton on the right side of the neck, came out on the side below the breast-bone, entered again at the hip and emerged from the flesh below the knee. The vital organs were not penetrated, but it was thought there was very little hope of his recovery. In spite of this Sutton has continued to improve, notwithstanding the fact that his physicians say that 965 out of every 1,000,000 such gases would die in less than a minute after the accident, and that it would be almost impossible for even a knitting-needle to follow the course through a man's body which this iron rod did without entering a number of large arteries, whereas the root which passed through Sutton was three-quarters of an inch in diameter. A dispatch from Warren to-day says: "Sutton is getting along nicely and gives-every indication of a rapid recovery. He sits up in bed and smokes, a habit which has a very strong hold on him, but it has been a source of strength rather than anything else."

A Too Realistic Sham Battle. La Salle, Ill., August 27.-Private R. A. Purdie, of the Fourth Regiment Illinois National Guard, wounded during a sham battle at the State encampment, near Ottawa, two weeks ago, died here to-day from lockjaw induced by his injuries. Great indignation prevails against the First Illinois Cavairy Regiment, which is held responsible for the death. State-ments were publicly made after the battle that the cavairy had a grudge against certain other regiments, and had gone into the fight with the precon-certed design of mainting as many of its opponents as possible. The vicious fight-ing and number of casualties that charac-terized the battle excited much comment at ing and number of casualties that charac-terized the battle excited much comment at the time. Bradford, Pa., August 27.—At 9 o'clock this morning Roberts' glycerine factory, two miles from town, caught fire. Superintendent Lewis, the only person around at the time, saw that he could do nothing, and the time, saw that he could do nothing, and ran for his life. A terrible explosion followed, which shook Bradford to its center. Emery's large brick tuilding shook like a leaf. The explosion was the greatest ever heard here. There was but one run in the factory at the time. The building was completely wrecked. The loss is not yet ascertained.

MORMONS MOBBED

Proselyters Beaten and Left Naked and Bleeding in London Streets.

LONDON, August 26 .- For some time past several Mormon missionaries have been laboring with great energy in the east of London and have succeeded in making many converts and proselytes in spite of persistent and brutal opposition. Recently there have been reports that these missionaries had been systematically kidnaping bandsome young women and shipping them to Utah to be "sealed" to rich and lecherous Mormons. All sorts of stories have been told about harems kept by rich Mormons and the indignities indicted upon the girls who were entrapped into becoming their wives or concultants. These reports have greatly exasperated the East Enders, and last night an infuriated mob Invaded and took possession of the hall in which the missionaries were speaking. The invaders stormed the platform, smashed most of the furniture in the hall, and made a total wreek of everything on the platform. Several of the elders who had been conducting the services fiel for their lives. The rioters chased them through the streets, pelting them with filth and every sort of missile that could be picked up. Several of the elders were captured and were terribly abused by the mob. Their clothing was torn to shreds, and they were beaten until they were unconscious and almost lifeless. The rioters evidently believing them dead field and left the Mormons lying naked and bleeding or the pavement, where they were afterwar found by the police. them to Utah to be "sealed" to rich and found by the police.

READING, PA., August 26.—A special from Perkiomen Junction gives particulars of a horrible burning affair at Perkiomen Junction, Montgomery County, of a lovely young lady named Jennie Kulp, of Green Lane, where she was staying at Herring's Hotel. She was engaged in writing a let ter to a gentleman friend, in her bedroom when she fell asleep. She probably moved ber arms while asleep, for the coal-oil when she fell asleep. She probably moved her arms while asleep, for the coal-oil lamp was upset, saturating he clothing and setting it on fire. The room showed that the poor girl must have had a terrible strengtle. The door was locked and she screamed and beat her body against it. The plastering was torn from the wall with her fingers in her agony. When finally the proprietor, Mr. Herring, heard her screams and opened the door of her room, she dashed out and through the house and up and down the stairs until she fell down in a swoon, her clothing all burned off her body, and her face and head literally reasted to the hone. She died this merning. Mr. Herring in his efforts to catch her was severely burned, the girl in her agony throwing her arms about him and burning his fac, neck and bands. A child with her in the room was also burned. What makes the affair all the mere sad is the fact that Miss Kulp was enguged to be married, and the letter she was writing was in reference to some arrangements for their coming wedding. She was unusually beautiful.

Caught in His Own Trap.

GRANVILLE, Vr., August 26.-Ira Linnell, with several other young men, has been spending the past week in the woods trapping bears. On Sunday morning he went to visit a distant bear trap to which only weekly visits were paid, and, although he did not return when expected, no anxiety was felt by his friends. Late Monday afternoon a farmer happened to pass near the trap in question and thought to examine it. Listening in vain for any indication of the presence of a hear, he opened the trap, and there, in a fainting condition, he found young Linnell. It appears that he had gone inside of the trap, a big box-hid affair for catching animals allve, and while arranging the bait, accidentally touched the spring that closed the door, and he found himself imprisoned. For thirty-six hours he remeined in his prison with no water and but little air, and his only food was the raw meat with which the trap was baited, and which hunger finally compelled him to eat. only weekly visits were paid, and, although

HOW TO GET TRADE IN SUMMER.

A Lesson That Cost an Albany Merchant $6,000 Before He Learned It.

Entering the store of a prosperous city merchant yesterday, a gentleman, a stranger in town, expressed surprise at the busy scene that greeted him. He inquired of the proprietor how it was that he was getting more than his share of business in these dull, midsummer days. The merchant replied: "I attribute the excellent business I do every summer to just two things: First, advertise bargains, and keep my store before the public second, when the pub-lic calls satisfy it by keeping my adver-tised promises. It cost me $6,000 fo learn this lesson, and it has paid me at least $25,000. During three successive summers during the hard years that fellowed 1873, I ran behind in this store on an average $2,000 every year. made up my mind that there was busi-ness to do and that I would do it. In the middle of the worst and dullest year that we had, when clerks were absent on their vacations and half of the force in the store was idle, I started in and spent $1,200 in advertising midsummer bargains, remnants, old stock, and se on. Within a week my store was so full of business that I had to send for every clerk who was away and added two extra clerks. That year, instead of a loss of $2,000 in the summer, I made of a loss of $2.500 hesides what I paid for advertis-ing. I have kept it up ever since. That was the most expensive lesson I ever learned, but it was the most instructive and the most remunerative. If I had to start in business again, as poor as wher I started, I would make a rule to spend at least one-half of what my rent cost in advertising in home papers. I would not waste it in cheap methods, but I would spend it judiciously and in the best and high-priced department and in the best and largest papers." Albany Evening Journal.

-A remarkable story of longevity comes from Massachusetts. In 1750 two brothers, Jonathan and Nehemiah Allen, moved from Sunbury to Barre. The former died at the age of 92; his wife at 87. Their six children who lived beyond infancy died at 67, 72, 77, 86, 87, and 88 – an average of over 80. Nehemiah Allen, the other brother, died at 87; his wife at 67. They had four sons and six daughters, who lived to the fellowing ages; 78, 80, 80, 82, 84, 92, 93, 95, 95, 96, and 96 – an average, counting the treatients of years of 871. Most of the fractions of years, of 874. them lived in or near Barre, and were farmers. -N, Y, Sun.

What Sporting Men Rely On.

What Sporting Men Rely On.

When Lewis R. Redmond, the South Carolina moonshiner, cornered, after for eight years einding the Government officials, was asked to surrender, he exclaimed:

"Never, to men who fire at my back!" Before he was taken, five builets had gone clear through him, but strange to relate, he got well, in the hands of a rude "backwoods nurse."

By the way, if Gardeld had been in the hands of a backwoods nurse, he might have lived. A beap of volunteer testimany against the infallibility of the physicians has been accumulating of late, and people are encouraged to do their owy doctoring more and more. It is cheaper and quite as certain.

Jos Goss was "covered" a few weeks ago and he tumbled, and so did Dan Mace. Death "fetched om" with that dreaded weapon—kidney disease. But they should have been lively and drawn first. They could easily have disarmed the monater had they covered him with that dead' shot—Warner's sate cure, which, drawn promptly, always takes the pray. It is doubtless true that sporting men dread this evenry more than any mishap of their perfession, and pressumably this explains why they as a rule are so partial tolthat celebrated "dead shot." Redmond was right. No man should surrender when attacked in the back. He should "draw," face about and proceed to the defence, for such attacks, so common among all classes, will fetch a man overy time unless "covered" by that wonderfully successful "dead shot."—Sportsman's Acus.
